Goalie returns

Goaltender Jason Palmer, who starred for Vernon Lakers during the 1986-87 season, is rejoining the B.C. Junior Hockey League team. Lakers' General Manager Mel Lis said the 19-year-old goaltender was scheduled to arrive in Vernon today. Palmer was expected to play with Seattle Thunderbirds, of the Western Hockey League, but walked out of the team's training camp in early- September. He then played three exhibition games with Portland Winter Hawks, also of the WHL, before practicing in Vernon for three days, and then returning home to Vancouver. Lis said Palmer may dress as the back-up goalie for Saturday night's game, at home, against Richmond Sockeyes.
