

Composite OMJHL Team To Play Rockets Saturday

Arrangements are being made for an exhibition Okanagan-Mainline Junior A Hockey League series between the British Columbia champion Kamloops Rockets and a composite team from the other three league members at Kamloops Saturday.

Rockets' coach Ken Stewart and manager Don Brown met with coach Odie Lowe of the Vernon Canadians here yesterday to start preparations for the game.

Lowe said Stewart had asked him to pick four or five players from each city. Their showing in the game could possibly earn them one of six spots on the Kamloops team when it meets Alberta later this month.
