Okanagan Junior "A" Hockey League champion Kamloops Rockets face an unfamiliar do-or-die situation tonight when they take on the visiting Trail Junior Smokeaters at Kamloops Memorial Arena.

The Rockets have to win tonight or they're out of the B.C. junior hockey playoffs.

That's the ultimatum the Trail juniors gave them Saturday night when they upset the classy Kamloops crew 7-5 to tie up their best of three B.C. semi-final at one game apiece.

The win was something of an upset as most people thought the Rockets had the series all but clinched after bombing the Trailites 12-3 in the opener Friday night.

If the Rockets do win tonight they then advance against the winner of the New Westminster - Prince George semi-final for the provincial title.
