Broncs Here Saturday To Test Hapless Blades

Vernon Has Lonely Position In Junior League Cellar

Vernon Junior Blades take to the ice twice over the weekend.

Friday night they travel to Kelowna for a game with the league leading Buckaroos while Saturday second place Penticton-Summerland Broncs come to the Vernon Civic Arena.

Both games could be termed musts for the hapless Blades who have yet to record a win in 11 starts this season in league play. They managed one tie to escape the distinction of having no points on the league totem.

Vernon seems to be the case of a team that can't jell into a winning combination. Time and again they offer proofs that they have the personnel and desire to take games from the other teams in the league but somehow they always manage to boob at the right time(s) to spell disaster.

The word is that whatever has been bothering the team is now over and done with and they are set to head out on a winning note. Fans should have a real treat in store for them Saturday when Penticton comes to town.

At their last meeting Penticton had to hit for two late goals to overcome a well earned Vernon lead and force a draw. This could be the game that Blades finally manage to hang onto their hard earned gains and take two points from the top teams.

Likewise in Kelowna Friday night the game should be tight and well played. At the last game between Vernon and Kelowna the Bucks counted a give-away goal with 15 seconds left to take a win.

In both games Vernon had enough chances to win and could do so this time.

Given a strong bench the Vernon team might do a bit better. In some games of late the Blades bench strength has looked a mite sparse to say the least.

Often a leg-weary unit can't stem the tide of fresher opponents late in the game.

One bright light appeared in the statistics released from the league office this week. Dale Sorochnik is listed fifth in the individual scoring race—the only Vernon marksman to end up in the top ten.

However, Ivan Melanoski had a late start and could be lurking just below the cut-off point along with Bob Stein.
