

Big game here SaturdayB.C. junior teams fight to finish

Vernon Essos had to make room once more in their second place standings for the Kamloops Rockets who came through with a major 5-1 victory over Kelowna Buckaroos in Junior "A" hockey action at Kamloops Wednesday night.

Both teams now share second place with a total of 38 points, well behind league leading Penticton Broncos, but have enough points to ensure themselves of at least a playoff berth in the semi-final series that is just around the corner.

It has been a nip-and-tuck battle between the two clubs for the second place honor since before the new year.

Although both clubs seemingly have a spot on the playoff list, the picture is still not too clear as to who will have the last three places on the playoff train.

Essos have three games remaining in regular action. They play a big game in Vernon this Saturday, when Kelowna arrives in town, then Wednesday night, Feb. 28, Essos play their last game of the regular season on home ice when they host cellar dwelling Victoria Cougars. The last game for Essos will see them travel back to Victoria to wind-up the league schedule on March 2.

Kamloops has only two games remaining and for these they must travel to the coast for games in New Westminster and Victoria. Any combination of losses by Kamloops and wins for Vernon will give the Essos second place.

On the other hand, Kelowna could easily tie both second place clubs providing they pick up wins in their final two games they must play, while Vernon and Kamloops lose.

To complicate things even more, New Westminster, who are currently in fifth place with 30 points could move back into the playoff picture providing they win their three remaining games and Kelowna loses both their games.

Victoria Cougars are out of the playoff picture, but could certainly make things tough for those that are still fighting it out.

Cougars have already demonstrated their spoiler role as they took good measure of the New Westminster Royals last Tuesday to the tune of a 7-2 shellacking.

Royals have by far the hardest final games ahead of them as they must take on Penticton twice at Penticton and then host Kamloops in their final game at home.

The game Saturday, when Kelowna will be in civic arena could be the most crucial and thrilling exhibition of hockey observed in Vernon since the old senior Allan Cup days of the fifties.

Game time is set for 8:30 p.m. but the ticket office opens an hour earlier with a promise of one of the biggest crowds this season on hand for the game.
