

“Oh no! . . . not again” says Vern

Red faces are once again the order of the day concerning the monthly suit draw sponsored by the Vernon Junior Essos Hockey Club.

Two months ago, Vern Dye pulled his own name from the box in a draw that was declared completely legal by all of the wintesses present.

This morning, CJIB's Don Warner was on hand to make the draw and once again $100 worth of men's clothing will go to the Dye family.

Lucky ticket number 792 bore the name of Wendy Dye.

An embarrassed Vern who hasn't yet lived down the fact that he was one of the first winners in the contest he set up, will now have to face renewed ribbing from sporting circles.

The suit or its equivalent value in merchandise will be supplied for the July winner from Gordon Skinner Men's Wear.
