Vernon Essos Junior Hockey Club manager Vern Dye announced today the signing of two more of last year's players to the 1969-70 players list.

Jack Marsh and Jim Inglis are the two who stated their intentions of appearing in the lineup for this season.

nel, made a definite impression on the Vernon fans last year with his ability around the net and rated high in the team scoring.

Inglis, also back for his second year, would appear to be in tremendous shape for the upcoming season and should show quite well again this year. Last season, this native of Lumby, made appearances on both the forward and defensive lines for the club.

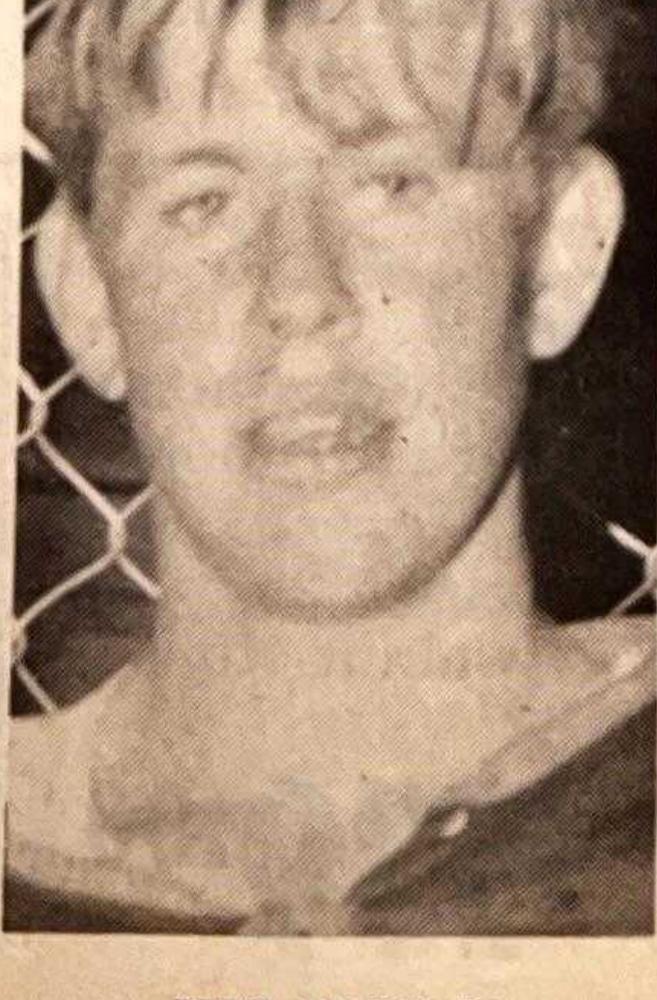

Coach Odie Lowe and Manager Dye are both optimistic about the kind of club that Vernon will ice this year with several veterans of last season and some very promising new talent set for the training camp which begins with a "light workout" this Friday evening.

The camp will roll into full operation on Saturday and then go into evening sessions as the Salt Lake City Eagles come to Vernon for the second week of their training camp starting also on the 20th.
