Okanagan division teams in the British Columbia Junior Hockey League probably wish they could travel to the coast for games more often.

Teams from the Okanagan played four games against coast division teams on the weekend and won all four, two of them by lopsided scores.

In games Saturday, Kelowna Buckaroos trounced Chilliwack Bruins 8-1, Vernon Vikings squeezed past White Rock Centennials 5-4 and Penticton Broncos took a 5-3 decision from Bellingham Blazers. Sunday, Penticton whipped White Rock 7-3.

In Chilliwack, the Bruins were never in the game after the opening face-off as the Buckaroos completely dominated.

Barry Hansen and Archie McKinnon each scored two goals and Brad Owens, Dale Turner, Dale Costanzo and Wayne Monteith added single goals for Kelowna.

Vern Quaroni scored the lone Chilliwack goal.

White Rock came up with three goals in the final six minutes of their game against Vernon, but couldn't muster the tying counter.

Dave Caldwell scored two goals and Tim Sanche, John Kokotilo and Don Murdoch each scored once for the Vikings.
