

Players' award introduced

The B.C. Junior Hockey League has announced it will feature a "Player of the Week", award during the 1974-75 season.

League Executive-Director Bryan Couling said the league is implementing the award in an effort to keep fans more informed, and to make the season more interesting for individual players.

Couling also has announced that all BCJHL referees will wear red and white striped sweaters this year, with linesmen retaining the traditional black and white striped jerseys.

The BCJHL season opens Sept. 27.
