Interior clubs in the British Columbia Junior Hockey League had the edge Friday as Vernon Vikings nipped Langley Lords 4-3 and Kelowna Buckaroos smashed Bellingham Blazers 7-4.

Playing in Kelowna, Doug Berry scored four goals to pace the Buckaroos to 3-2 and 4-2 period leads. Mark Schnarr scored two goals and his brother, Perry, another to round out the attack.

Kevin Schamehorn, Brian McAllister, Rob Chrosciewicz and Randy Betty scored for the losers.

The game was fast and penalties few until each team received fighting penalties in the third period.

Playing before 1,000 fans, Vernon was able to revenge its home opening loss to the Lords by beating them on home ice.

Langley, down for two periods, grabbed a 3-2 lead early in the third, but lost it on goals by Darrell Booth and Rod Oyck. Other Vernon scorers were Dave Caldo and Marty Stein.

Mike Urquhart, Kelly Ferner and Dan Clark scored for Langley.

In the Kelowna game, Bill Stankoven kicked away 13 Blazers shots, while Cary Walker and Jack Anderson combined to stop 35 Kelowna markers. Langley goaltender Brian Henderson stopped 34 shots, while Vikings net-minder Jim Scannell stopped 17.
