Monashee All-Star Game Sunday in Salmon Arm

The best senior hockey players in the North Okanagan will be on the ice Sunday at the Salmon Arm Arena for the annual Monashee Hockey League All-star Game.

The league all-stars will be taking on the Salmon Arm Aces at 2 p.m.

Salmon Arm is expected to be much stronger this season despite the loss of high-scoring Gord Lyons.

Biggest addition will be former Vernon Essos' star Wayne Dye. Dye played the last two seasons with Spokane Flyers of the Western International Hockey League.

Prior to his stint with the Flyers, he starred for five years with the Essos and one year with New Westminster Bruins of the Western Canada Hockey League.

Other additions to the club include Jeff Todd from Vernon and Tom Sims from Revelstoke. Lyon's sharp-shooting linemate Dave Caldwell is back this year. Caldwell too starred in junior A hockey in Vernon.

Representing Lumby Flying Frenchmen on the all-star team will be goalie Charlie Briskham, along with Wally and Willy Bevan, and Stan Hunt.

The league's two top scorers last season, Roy Patrick and Jim Manson, will be among the players on hand from the Golden Rockets.

Most valuable defenceman Jeff Shirley, from Nakusp Falcons, will head the blue line corps, and Ed Forslund from Grindrod Elks will share the netminding duties with Briskham.

Revelstoke Selkirks are sending an impressive group including Jim Rota, Robert Sirlanni, and Don and John Manson.
