KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Injuries have sidelined five players who were scheduled to play the sixth annual British Columbia Junior Hockey League allstar game in Nanaimo, the league said Monday.

For Wednesday's game, the interior all-stars will play without goalie John McKerrow of Kelowna Buckaroos and forwards Kirk Aulin and Darrell Zelinski of Merritt Centennials. Their replacements will be goaltender Dennis Ewanchuk of Penticton Vees, forward Pat Severyn of the Buckaroos and winger John Uveges from the Vees.

Sidelined from the coast all-stars are defenseman Sheldon Geary and forward Ron Anderson of Maple Ridge Blazers. Nanaimo Clippers' defenseman Leroy Heck will replace Geary, while Anderson's position will be filled by Brian Henderson of Langley Lords.
