Swiss curlers best in world

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Jurg Tanner appeared to have everything going against him before his final game against the United States in the men s world curling championship Sunday.

After the match, however, he had everything going for him following a 2-1 decision over Bud Somerville of Superior, Wis., by stealing single points in the second and fourth ends, then narrowly missing a shot during the remainder of the game.

Earlier, the situation might have been considered gloomy for the 26-year-old Tanner.

He took an injection Saturday night to freeze a chronic sore left hip for 48 hours. He wasn't confident, believing that some teams were better than the Lausanne foursome.

He won Switzerland's second Air Canada Silver Broom trophy with a supurb display of curling that kept Somerville and Bob Nichols, who threw last stones for the U.S., off-balance for most of the game before 5,686 fans in the Thompson Arena.

It was the lowest scoring game ever in the 14-year history of the tournament.

OUSTED BURTNYK

Tanner, who defeated Canadian skip Kerry Burtnyk 7-4 in semifinal play Saturday by stealing a total of four points, said he didn't have to make any difficult shots in the final.

However, his rink of third Jurg Hornisberger, second Patrik Loertscher and lead Franz Tanner — the skip's 55-year-old father — put him in a small hole in the fifth end.

The Swiss skip had to make a double takeout in that end, then stayed to count two. Nichols could only draw into the house for one, leaving the Swiss with the 2-1 lead.

In the second end, Nichols rubbed off a guard on an open takeout that gave the Swiss a 1-0 lead. Nichols attempted a double takeout in the fourth, for a longshot chance at three points, but he again rubbed off a guard and Tanner stole another point.

Burtnyk's rink from Winnipeg finished first at the conclusion of the round-robin schedule with an 8-1 record, losing the final game to Jan Ullsten of Sweden. An undefeated record would have given Canada an automatic bye into the final, but the setback dropped Burtnyk, third Mark Olson, second Jim Spencer and lead Ron Kammerlock into a four-team playoff.

U.S. BEATS NORWAY

In the other semifinal game, the U.S. defeated Kristian Soerum of Norway 7-4.

Norway, which lost to Canadian skip Rick Folk of Saskatoon in last year's final, was second in the 1981 round-robin standings with a 7-2 record.

The U.S. and Swiss both finished at 6-3, but the Americans took third because they had defeated Switzerland 6-5 in round-robin play.

Sweden and Colin Hamilton of Scotland both finished at 5-4, while Giuseppe Dal Molinof Italy was 3-6. Tommy Stjerne of Denmark and Keith Wendorf of West Germany has 2-7 records and Gerard Alazet of France was 1-8.

The tournament scheduled for Garmisch-Partenkirchen, West Germany, in 1982 attracted 58,228 fans.

The 1983 championship will be held in Regina.

Young netminder leads Stars past Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Minnesota North Stars are getting their act together just in time for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The North Stars, who have struggled of late, looked right on schedule Sunday night when they defeated Vancouver Canucks 4-2 in a hard-skating, close-checking National Hockey League game.

"We've been trying to tighten up defensively lately and tonight everyone did their job," said Minnesota coach Glen Sonmor. "The defence blocked a lot of shots and we got a great netminding job from the rookie."

Don Beaupre, the 19-year-old undergrad goaltender, blocked 33 Vancouver shots in another brilliant performance. He also survived a couple of nasty runins with Canuck troubleshooter Dave (Tiger) Williams.

"I can't afford to worry too much about the man in front of the net," said Beaupre. "I've got to concentrate on the puck first.

"Williams was just doing his job and the penalties were just something that happens sometimes."

Beaupre received a double minor in the first period when he and Williams exchanged high sticks in front of the Minnesota net, with Williams getting a minor, plus a major for spearing.

Williams took a needless roughing penalty late in the game when Vancouver had the power play and trailed by just one goal. Williams slashed at a rebound and then fell on Beaupre in the goal crease.

The North Stars were a Cinderella team for most of the 1980 Stanley Cup playoffs. They upset Montreal Canadiens in the quarter-finals before losing to the muscle-bound Philadelphia Flyers in the semifinals.

This season the North Stars have struggled at times on the road. The win over Vancouver, however, gives Minnesota 32 road points, one more than last season.

The line of Bobby Smith between Steve Payne and Al MacAdam, which carried the North Stars at times last season, has been broken up. Minnesota got its goals against Vancouver from some unexpected sources.

BANKED IN GOAL

Mike Polich and Tom Younghans scored shorthanded goals, while defenceman Fred Barrett banked a long shot off the boards in the last minute — and into an open Vancouver net after Richard Brodeur had been pulled for an extra attacker. Jim Young scored a power-play marker in the second period.

"The big line (Smith and Co.) has had a tough time this season and we need some more offence in the playoffs," added Sonmor. "But I'm sure happy right now with the way we're playing defensively.

"Our goaltending, with the kid (Beaupre) and the veteran (Gilles Meloche), has been great all season. If we keep things tight defensively, we'll be all right in the playoffs."

Minnesota, 33-27-17, moved to within one point of eighth-place Boston Bruins in the overall standings, while the Canucks, 28-30-19, remained in 10th place, tied with Quebec Nordiques and Chicago Black Hawks.

Blair MacDonald and Per-Olov Brasar scored for Vancouver, which had more than its share of trouble on the power play. The Canucks failed to score on seven manpower advantages and gave up the two shorthanded goals.

"We had a lack of concentration on three of their goals," said Canuck coach Harry Neale. "We didn't play with any urgency at all until the third period.

"We have to play with that urgency all the time if we hope to be successful in the playoffs. Tonight we allowed a team that isn't going all that good to get away with a win when we should have been all over them."

Vancouver outshot Minnesota 33-25, but Brodeur let in soft goals by Young and Younghans in the second period which gave the North Stars a 3-1 lead.

SUGAR RAY LEONARD
... bullies Bonds

Leonard wins bout by TKO

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Although he denies using Larry Bonds to practice for fights against tougher left-handers, Sugar Ray Leonard doesn't want anyone thinking he was in trouble against the low-profile Denver boxer.

"So far, I've heard more and more excuses — he had been inactive, he didn't like the referee, I punched after the bell," Leonard said Sunday. "But it was my victory.

"That seems difficult for the public to accept, and it shouldn t be that way."

The 24-year-old Leonard floored Bonds twice Saturday night — once in the fourth round and once in the 10th — before referee Arthur Mercante stopped it after 2:22 of the 10th round.

"Last night, everyone was saying that Larry Bonds was not worthy to step into the ring with me. But I had to feel him out. His style is hard to deal with because he stands in front of you, where most southpaws give you just one side."

Leonard, now 29-1, said he had to adjust his tactics and "bully" Bonds.

The scheduled 15-round bout before a crowd of 21,000 was Leonard's first defence of the World Boxing Council welterweight title since he regained it from Roberto Duran last Nov. 25 at New Orleans.

Next, he will challenge Ayub Kalule on June 25 in Houston for the World Boxing Association junior middleweight championship. Kalule, a Ugandan living in Denmark, also is a left-hander.

Leonard received an estimated $750,000 for the fight.

Father and son cherish record

By The Canadian Press

It was a night the Gretzkys — father and son — will cherish.

The father, Walter, had travelled by car six hours from the family home in Brantford, Ont., to watch his son, Wayne, set a National Hockey League record.

And the 20-year-old Edmonton scoring sensation responded to the challenge, collecting three assists in Pittsburgh to help Oilers to a 5-2 victory.

It was a toss-up who was happiest after the game — Walter, who says he was out of character when he leaped from his seat in the second period when Wayne drew an assist on Mark Messier's goal. It not only opened a 1-0 Edmonton lead, it was point No. 153 — breaking the old single-season standard set by former Boston Bruins great Phil Esposito in 1970-71.

Later Gretzky would collect two more assists, tying him for the single-season high at 109 with ex-Bruins defenceman Bobby Orr.

"I try not to show emotion, but I couldn't hold it in tonight," said Walter Gretzky. "I jumped out of my seat and that's only the second time I've ever done that."

He refused to elaborate when it was he first jumped from his seat at a hockey game but admitted he also did another uncharacteristic thing after he game — visited the Oilers' dressing room.

Elsewhere the scores were: New York Islanders 5, Washington Capitals 4; Philadelphia Flyers 4, Hartford Whalers 1; Quebec Nordiques 4, Montreal Canadiens 0; Minnesota North Stars 4, Vancouver Canucks 2; Chicago Black Hawks 4, Detroit Red Wings 3; Colorado Rockies 2, Winnipeg Jets 1.

WAYNE GRETZKY
... 155 points

Saturday's scores were: Boston Bruins 5, Chicago 2; Edmonton 4, Detroit 2; New York Rangers 6, Montreal 2; Pittsburgh 4, Islanders 4; Toronto Maple Leafs 9, Calgary Flames 5; Los Angeles Kings 3, Minnesota 2; St. Louis Blues 7, Buffalo Sabres 4.

ESPO WARNED

Esposito, who retired this year as a player with New York Rangers, said his own father had warned him six years ago that his points record was in imminent danger from Gretzky.

"My dad told me when Gretzky was 14, 'Mark my words, there's one guy who can break your record, a kid coming up, and the NHL is watching him.' Esposito recalled Sunday after learning his 10-year-old mark had fallen.

Gretzky set up Edmonton's first goal — a power-play score by Messier at 3:07 of the second period. Then, with Edmonton leading 3-2, Gretzky was credited with another second assist on a third-period goal by Brett Callighen and drew a third assist an open-net score by Jari Kurri.

Islanders 5 Capitals 4

The Islanders, on a 12-game unbeaten streak, needed the victory to tie the St. Louises for first place in the standings.

The deciding goal in the seesaw game came at 14:32 of the final period, as Mike Bossy scored his 68th goal of the season. Clark Gillies, with two, Bryan Trottier and Steffan Persson also scored for the Islander. Benmgt Gustafsson, Mike Gartner, Rolf Edberg and Ryan Walter replied for the Capitals.

Flyers 4 Whalers 1

Philadelphia continued to dominate Hartford, stretching their unbeaten string against the Whalers to eight games as Paul Holmgren scored twice with single efforts from Tim Kerr and Reid Bailey and Pete Peeters scored the lone Hartford goal.

Hartford, which has only seven wins in its last 40 games, can finish no higher than 18th place.

For Dave Keon, who assisted on Nachbaur's goal, it was his 966th point in the NHL and enabled the 41-year old veteran to move past Maurice Richard to 17th place on the all-time list.

Black Hawks 4 Red Wings 3

Reg Kerr beat Detroit goalie Larry Lozinzki with a 40-footer in the third period to secure the Chicago win. Kerr's linemate Tim Higgins scored two goals while their centre, Denis Savard added the fourth Hawks goal. Mike Foligno, Reid Larson and Mark Kirton tallied for Detroit.

Savard, who had four points in the game, lifted his season total to 74.

Rogers rallies to edge Irwin

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Hale Irwin followed his golf game plan perfectly — even better than he could have hope for — in the final round of the Heritage Classic.

But it backfired on him and helped spur Bill Rogers to victory Sunday.

"I told my caddy before we started I'd have to put some heat on early, and after the first hole I thought I could," Irwin said.

And apply the heat he did. And as early as possible. He holed out a 100-yard six-iron shot for an eagle-two on the first hole.

But it didn't have the desired effect.

"Hale's two on the first hole was absolutely the best thing that could have happened to me," said Rogers, who withstood that challenge and series of threats from several other players. He hung on grimly, never surrendering the lead in a display of thin-lipped determination that won him his second Professional Golfers' Association tour title and $54,000.

WORRISOME START

After Irwin, playing in the same threesome with Rogers, had scored his eagle, Rogers later remarked: "I said to myself, 'It's going to be a great day. I can't just sit back.' It made me play harder and I got rid of my jitters right away."

He won this one with a closing 70, one-under-par on the 6,650-yard Harbour Town Golf Links, and had a 278 total, six under par.

Irwin, a two-time winner of this title, Gil Morgan, Australian veteran Bruce Devlin and Craig Stadler finished one stroke back at 279. Irwin and Morgan, both with the front-running Rogers in the last threesome, each had 68s. Stadler and Devlin each shot 67s.

All put the pressure on. But none of them caught the skinny Texarkana, Tex., native who started the round with a three-shot lead, built it to five at one time and then clung to a one-stroke lead over the last four holes.

Dan Halldorson of Shilo, Man., the lone Canadian to survive the halfway cut, finished with a 74 and at 291 was well back in the pack. He collected $1,424 for the four rounds.

"I just couldn't ever get the two-shot swing I needed," Irwin said. "Bill played his heart out. He really wanted it."

That may have been an understatement.

BOLSTERS CONFIDENCE

"You just don't know how much this means to me," said Rogers, one of golf's more accomplished players who, strangely, has spent most of his career in a series of frustrating, unsuccessful challenges. His solid game, built more on accuracy and finesse than power, has produced a great deal of money — almost one-half million in three seasons — but precious few victories.

He won important big money titles in Japan and England. But his only previous victory in the U.S. was in the Bob Hope Desert Classic three years ago.

"That's what's important in winning in this country," Rogers said.

And this one, he said, "couldn't have come at a better time."

"I was in a slump and had a total loss of confidence. I went home and tried to find something. I made an adjustment with my hands that made me feel more comfortable."

Irwin, one of golf's great competitors, just missed on a 60-foot putt on the final hole that would have tied it and sent the tournament to a playoff.

Ray Floyd, who had won the two previous tour titles, had a closing 71 and a 284 total. Tom Watson shot 70-287.

Spinks remains unbeaten

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — After knocking out two-time light-heavyweight champion Marvin Johnson, Michael Spinks is politely asking for a champion to fight.

"Give me Matthew Saad Muhammad, give me Eddie Mustafa Muhammad," said Spinks, referring to the World Boxing Council and World Boxing Association light-heavyweight titleholders, respectively. "If I just want one, I feel I'm slighting the other."

Spinks, 25, of St. Louis, is undefeated in 17 professional outings with 13 knockouts. His ranking as top contender was secured with a single, crisp left hook to Johnson's chin at 1:22 of the fourth round in a scheduled 10-rounder Saturday.

Until then, Johnson had crowded Spinks from the opening bell. But the near-perfect blow put Johnson flat on his back, out for the count and into a hospital for an overnight stay for observation with a slight concussion.

Johnson, 26, conscious all the time, was released Sunday afternoon after results of a brain scan were normal, said hospital officials. He returned to his home in Indianapolis.

The way Spinks tells it, it was a classic punch

"I saw the picture-perfect left hook and then I took it. I don't think anybody could throw a better left hook. Hey, if he got up from that, then I would have quit."

Still, Johnson made his presence known.

Chinaglia scores twice for Cosmos

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Centre-forward Giorgio Chinaglia scored two goals Sunday to give New York Cosmos a 3-0 shutout victory over San Jose Earthquakes in the season opener for both North American Soccer League teams.

His first goal, on an assist from Francois Van Der Elst after a pass from Boris Bandov, came at 2:56 into the contest and was the only score of the first half. The second, on an assist from Angelo DiBernardo and Van Der Elst, came at 87:24.

The other Cosmos goal was a rebound scored at 60:02 by forward Roberto Cabanas after a shot by Van Der Elst was blocked. Attendance was 20,671.

In opening-day games Saturday, Jacksonville Tea Men defeated Toronto Blizzard 1-0, Tulsa Roughnecks shut out Tampa Bay Rowdies 2-0, Fort Lauderdale Strikers edged Washington Diplomats 2-1 in overtime, Seattle Sounders dumped Los Angeles Aztecs 3-0, San Diego Sockers shaded Vancouver Whitecaps 2-1 in a shootout and Portland Timbers blanked California Surf 2-0.

North Shore beats Kelowna

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Mike Thomas scored three unanswered goals in the second period to lead North Shore Winter Club to a 6-2 victory over Kelowna and the B.C. Juvenile 'A' hockey championship Saturday.

North Shore took the best-of-three series in two straight games, having defeated Kelowna 2-1 Friday.

Knights capture title in overtime

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — Randy Maxwell scored at 10:12 of a second sudden-death overtime period as Penticton Knights snatched a 3-2 win over Abbotsford Flyers and the B.C. Junior Hockey League best-of-seven final series 4-3 Sunday night.

It is the second consecutive year the Knights have claimed the title.

Maxwell took a pass from teammate Bob Shaw, skated around the back of Abbotsford's net and caught goalie Marty Wakelin on the right hand side in the dramatic match before 2,700 fans.

Shaw was responsible for the other Penticton goals — both on assists from Maxwell.

Colin Lundergan and Don Yewchin counted for Abbotsford, which tied Penticton 1-1 after the first period and 2-2 through the end of regulation play and into the first 10-minute overtime period.

Wakelin, picked up recently from the Nor Wes Caps, stopped 51 shots on Abbotsford net while Bruno Campese made 33 saves in Penticton net.

The Knights take on Prince George Spruce Kings, champions of the Peace-Cariboo Junior Hockey League, later this week.

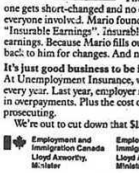
When you're in construction, form follows function. Ask Mario.

He fills out the UI Record of Employment perfectly every time an employee parts company.



When you're in good company, stay in good form. Mario handles personnel and finance matters for his brother's construction company. And he knows that one of his responsibilities is to fill out a UI Record of Employment form every time an employee has an interruption in earnings. He knows that if he doesn't get it right the first time, he may have to do it again. So Mario took the time to get the booklet "How to Complete the Record of Employment" from his nearby Canada Employment Centre.

Leaving in good form.
The Record of Employment is one way we can make sure no one gets short-changed and no one gets overpaid. This saves time and money for everyone involved. Mario found out that the most common mistake is in reporting the "Insurable earnings" box. Insurable earnings are not necessarily the same as payroll earnings. Because Mario fills out the ROE accurately, ex-employees don't have to come back to him for changes. And neither do we.

It's just good business to be in good form.
At Unemployment Insurance, we process about 4,000,000 Records of Employment every year. Last year, employer mistakes in filling out the form cost at least $125,000,000 in overpayments. Plus the cost of recovering those overpayments and penalizing or prosecuting.
We're out to cut down that $125,000,000. And we're going to do it, together.
