KENDALL'S KORNER

Junior club to continue

Most Vernon residents would like to forget the 1980-81 British Columbia Junior Hockey League season.

Vernon, which rejoined the BCJHL after a one-year absence, suffered through a dismal season. Lakers finished last in the five-team Interior Division and established a league record for futility with a 22-game winless streak.

The ice isn't even out of the Civic Arena and already BCJHL President Vern Dye is talking about next season. Dye has been involved with junior hockey in Vernon, in various capacities, for more than a decade. He took over as league president and remained as a team director last year.

WILL OPERATE

"I'm confident the Vernon franchise will continue to operate," he said. "However, a lot of things will have to be changed to make the team a success."

Dye cited several reasons for the club's dismal showing on the ice . . . and financially.

"It was a combination of a lot of things," he said. "We got a late start recruiting, the local kids didn't live up to expectations, and we made a coaching change after only about a month."

Dye feels the best way to operate the team would be with a board of directors, comprised of about 10 local businessmen. "There are several people interested in getting involved with the team," he said. "We hope to set up a meeting within the next couple weeks."

SCLID FRANCHISES

B.C. champion Penticton Knights and Kelowna Buckaroos attracted capacity crowds during playoffs, provided a profit for the team owners, and are solid franchises.

The other three teams in the division, Merritt, Revelstoke, and Vernon, lost a bundle of money. However, Dye expects all five clubs back next season.

"All five teams have indicated they will be returning," he said. "We're hoping Kamloops will rejoin us next season, but I've got to admit, it doesn't look too good."

The Kamloops franchise moved to Revelstoke midway through the 1979-80 season.

WINNER NEEDED

It is obvious the only way to operate a BCJHL team in the black is to provide a winner for the fans. The last time Vernon showed a profit was in 1972, when Essos captured the provincial title.

To build a winner, the work must start now. First, the board of directors must be formed. Then, that board will be responsible for appointing a coach and general manager. Recruiting, by the coach and manager, should start by June.

Finally, an affiliation with a tier one team would be a tremendous asset. A working agreement could provide Vernon with up to six late cuts from a tier one camp.

If Vernon remains in the BCJHL, let us hope the 1981-82 season will be something to remember, rather than forget.

Grads outmuscle high school club

VSSS Graudates' Rugby Club muscled their way to an easy 18-3 victory over the high school squad in exhibition action at VSSS, Thursday.

The Grads got tries from Mark Siegmueller, Scott Woodman, Ross Johnson, and Greg Kozak and Mike Grywacheski was good for a convert.

Brian Buggey kicked a field goal to put the school team on the scoreboard.

"We basically outweighed them," he said. "We just wore them down."

He gave full marks to the younger team's spirit however.

"They never gave up, they just kept coming at us," he said.

School coach, Terry White, said he wished the score had been a little closer, noting "These old guys still have quite a bit of life left in them."

Both coaches agreed the main objective of the annual event was achieved.

"It was a really good game and we had a great time," said White.

Marshall said he was surprised at the number of veterans that turned out to play.

He said he had nearly enough players to suit two teams.

UNITED HOSTS RIALTOROS

Coldstream's opener on road

MONIE BACKSTROM, a highly-qualified instructor, will conduct the Vernon District Riding Club's spring clinic, April 17-20, at the club grounds.

Both Vernon teams will be in action when Okanagan Soccer League action resumes Sunday.

Vernon United, which edged Penticton Molsons 1-0 in its season opener last weekend, hosts Osoyoos Rialtoros, at 2 p.m., at MacDonald Park.

Coldstream Hotel plays its first game in Osoyoos, against perennial cellar-dweller Osoyoos Sage and Sand.

Coldstream player-manager Jim Wilson told the Daily News his club will field basically the same side as last year.

"We've made a couple changes, but not many," Wilson said.

FIVE MISSING

The Hoteimen will be without five regulars for their initial outing. Marty Stein, Tom Ouchi, Rod Irons, Wayne Richardson, and Doug Pearson are all out of town, for various reasons.

Wilson said, "I guess we're lucky to play Sage and Sand first. If we met a strong team, we would be in trouble."

Coldstream's strength in recent years has been defence, centered around middle-fullback Willy Madden. Mark Taylor, Pearson, Irons, and Ouchi provide depth on the backline. However, Taylor may be shifted to forward this season.

"Our big problem has been scoring goals," Wilson said, "We don't capitalize on enough of our opportunities."

With the loss of Gord Howard and Jim Sparrow to the City League, solving that deficiency may not be an easy task.

Wally Fisher will line-up in one striking position, with Taylor or Wilson, who usually plays midfield, in the other spot. Tim Lilburn and Stein are expected to occupy the wing positions.

The midfield, even without Wilson, appears adequate with veteran Keith Brookes, Dave Boland, and newcomer Brian Essington.

Goalkeeper Bob Mann is one of the most experienced shot-blockers in the league.

Wilson said, "I'm not worried about our backfield . . . we're strong there. To have a successful season, we'll have to score more goals than last year."

Berbick 'calmly' prepares for Holmes

LAS VEGAS (CP) — Trevor Berbick is calmly preparing for his challenge at the World Boxing Council heavyweight title Saturday night — so calmly that he may be beginning to spook undefeated champion Larry Holmes.

"I've never seen a guy act like that two days before a fight," Holmes said Thursday of the Canadian champion's quiet, friendly disposition. "It scares me."

Berbick's attitude has driven Holmes to say that, though he likes the Jamaican native, "I've got to knock him out."

The feeling is mutual.

"I like Larry and I'm not going to change overnight," Berbick said. "But when I get in the ring, I'm going to be all buisness."

Holmes, 31, with 27 knockouts in 36 professional fights, predicted he would win all rounds and said he will try for an early knockout.

Berbick, 27, has his own ideas about that.

"Sure, he's been with fighters but he's never been with a fighter like me," Berbick said. "He doesn't have to come looking for me because I'm going to be right on top of his nose."

Whether the Halifax resident can stay with Holmes remains to be seen. Boxing experts here are so certain Holmes, who has defended his title with eight successive knockouts, will win that there is no betting line on fight in the American gambling capital.

However, trainer Lee Black, who is credited with bringing about a marked change in attitude that has improved Berbick as a boxer, makes a point that no boxing observer should forget.

"Sure, he's the underdog, but with these guys anything can happen," Black said. "It might be over in the first round, it might go the distance."

Even Berbick, with 18 wins and one draw in 20 pro fights, must recognize that point.
