

Team sold

DUNCAN, B.C. (CP) — Cowichan Valley Capitals of the B.C. Junior Hockey League are under new ownership and will remain in this Vancouver Island community for the 1983-84 season, club officials said Thursday.

Charlie MacFarlane, a former Duncan resident now living in Victoria, purchased the debt-ridden team from a group of Victoria businessmen headed by Keith Kaye and Dennis Ferrill.

MacFarlane said he plans to return to Duncan and operate the team as a resident owner.
