

Lakers meet Cents twice

Vernon Lakers play a home-and-home series with Merritt Centennials this weekend to conclude the B.C. Junior Hockey League pre-season schedule.

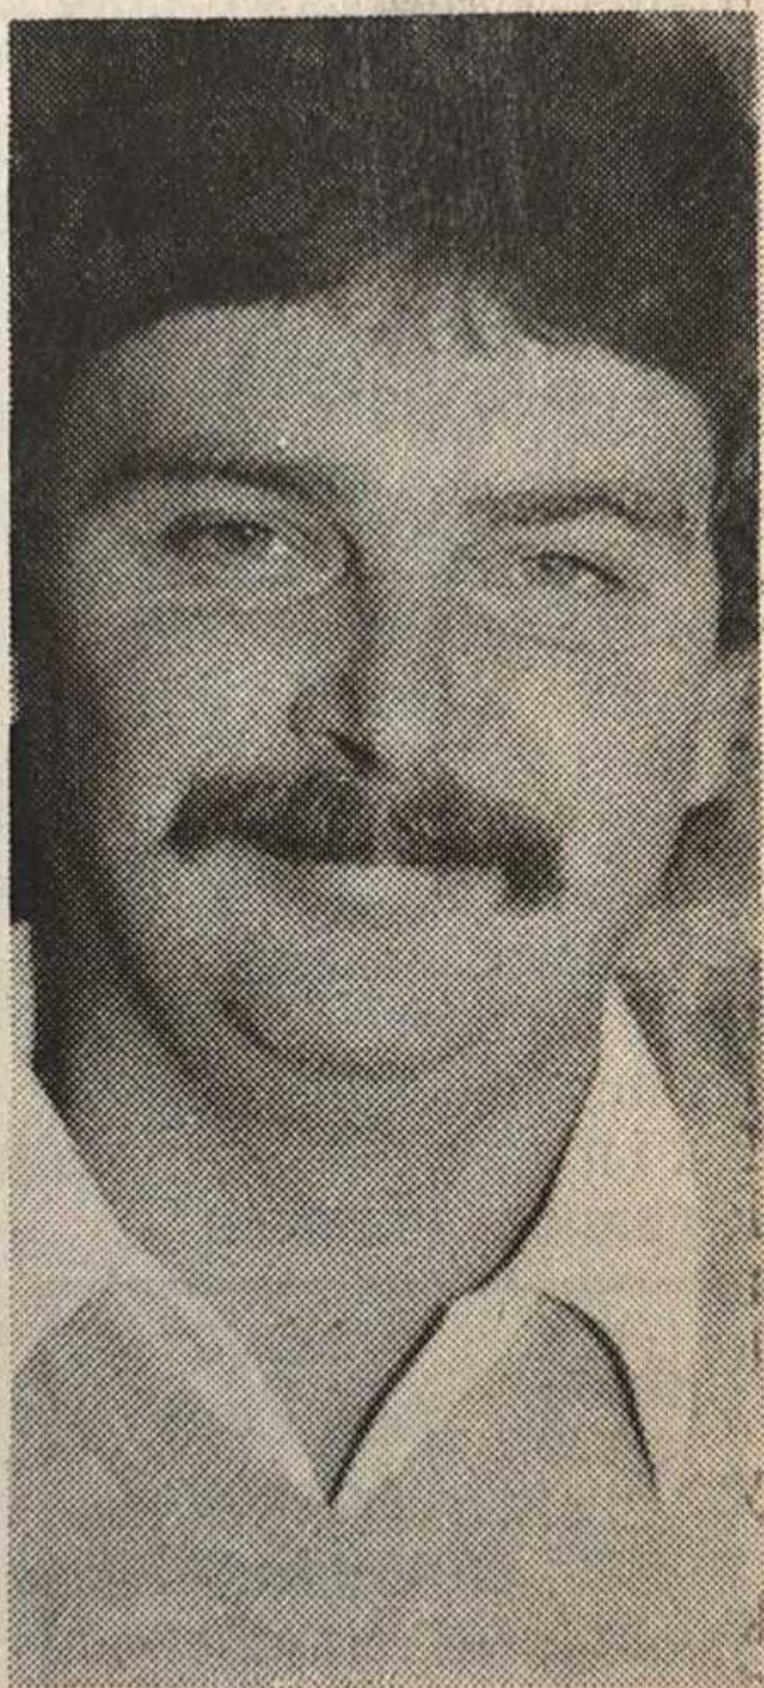

Lakers host the Cents, Saturday at 8 p.m., then travel to Merritt, Sunday at 7 p.m. The regular season gets under way Tuesday with Shuswap Totems visiting Vernon.

Lakers moved from their training camp home, in the Priest Valley Arena, to the Civic Arena, today. There are still 32 players, including 12 locals, on the roster.

"There are a lot of guys we want to take another look at ... in a game situation," Tapp said. "We can only dress 19 players per game so we'll have a mixture of veterans and rookies on the ice."

However, with the league opener just five days away, Tapp said he will be using some set line combinations during the weekend twin bill.

Tapp said, "We've got a lot of decisions to make so these games with Merritt are important for us."

In an exhibition game Wednesday, Shuswap whipped Revelstoke Rangers 13-5.
