

Lakers host Totems to take over second

Head coach Don Moores gets his first opportunity to put Vernon Lakers through a game situation tonight as Vernon hosts Salmon Arm Totems at 8 p.m. at Civic Arena.

Moores, who replaced Mike Enemark Monday morning following Enemark's resignation as head coach, takes over a club which is in third place but only one point out of second place. A win tonight would put the local club in second place in the BCJHL Interior Division.

Lakers have so far managed to dominate Totems who are currently last in the Interior with just nine points. Lakers have defeated Totems twice and tied them once in three meetings so far this season.

Meanwhile, Lakers have some breathing space between themselves and fourth place Merritt Centennials. Cents dropped a 10-3 home ice loss to visiting Burnaby Bluehawks Thursday night.

Bluehawks broke open a 3-3 tie with four consecutive goals in a minute and 19 seconds during the second period. It was the 14th straight win for Burnaby.

Tonight and Sunday night is father-son night at Lakers' games. When the two accompany each other to either or both games the son will be admitted free.
