

Knights win BCJHL

Todd Brost fired in a 15-foot shot 34 seconds into a 10-minute overtime period to score the game winner and give Penticton Knights their fourth B.C. Junior Hockey League championship in six years.

The Knights downed Burnaby Bluehawks 7-5 to win the BCJHL best-of-seven final series four games to three before a wildly cheering hometown crowd Thursday night.

Knights coach Rick Kozuback said Burnaby was a tough competitor and his team benefited from playing at home.

"We felt that coming in here with home ice advantage was going to make the difference," said Kozuback.

"We felt that two of the games we played up there that we played well enough that we should have won but obviously we didn't. We knew that coming in here we'd have a bit of an edge because we are on home ice.

"Burnaby is an excellent hockey club. They are well coached and they came to play tonight.
